

Corporate Financial Performance Report — 2021

A narrative summary of annual financial results for 11 publicly traded companies for fiscal year 2021, covering market valuation, profitability, capital structure, and workforce size.

This document presents the 2021 annual financial performance of 11 companies spanning multiple industry sectors. For each company, the report describes market capitalization, revenue, gross profit, net income, earnings per share, EBITDA, shareholder equity, return on investment, and total employee count, as originally recorded for fiscal year 2021.

AAPL

In 2021, AAPL operated in the Information Technology sector and reported a market capitalization of $2,913.28 billion. The company generated revenue of $365,817 million and a gross profit of $152,836 million for the year. It recorded a net income of $94,680 million and earnings per share of $5.61 for the period. AAPL reported EBITDA of $120,233 million, which reflects operating profitability before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortization, while the company held shareholder equity of $63,090 million on its balance sheet. Profitability relative to invested capital stood at a return on investment of 54.98%. As of 2021, AAPL employed approximately 154,000 people worldwide.

MSFT

In 2021, MSFT operated in the Information Technology sector and reported a market capitalization of $2,525.08 billion. The company generated revenue of $168,088 million and a gross profit of $115,856 million for the year. It recorded a net income of $61,271 million and earnings per share of $8.05 for the period. MSFT reported EBITDA of $81,602 million, which reflects operating profitability before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortization, while the company held shareholder equity of $141,988 million on its balance sheet. Profitability relative to invested capital stood at a return on investment of 31.90%. As of 2021, MSFT employed approximately 181,000 people worldwide.

GOOG

In 2021, GOOG operated in the Information Technology sector and reported a market capitalization of $1,910.26 billion. The company generated revenue of $257,637 million and a gross profit of $146,698 million for the year. It recorded a net income of $76,033 million and earnings per share of $5.61 for the period. GOOG reported EBITDA of $91,155 million, which reflects operating profitability before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortization, while the company held shareholder equity of $251,635 million on its balance sheet. Profitability relative to invested capital stood at a return on investment of 28.54%. As of 2021, GOOG employed approximately 156,500 people worldwide.

PYPL

In 2021, PYPL operated in the Financial Technology sector and reported a market capitalization of $221.57 billion. The company generated revenue of $25,371 million and a gross profit of $11,921 million for the year. It recorded a net income of $4,169 million and earnings per share of $3.52 for the period. PYPL reported EBITDA of $5,527 million, which reflects operating profitability before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortization, while the company held shareholder equity of $21,727 million on its balance sheet. Profitability relative to invested capital stood at a return on investment of 14.00%. As of 2021, PYPL employed approximately 30,900 people worldwide.

AIG

In 2021, AIG operated in the Banking sector and reported a market capitalization of $47.21 billion. The company generated revenue of $52,057 million and a gross profit of $15,322 million for the year. It recorded a net income of $9,359 million and earnings per share of $10.82 for the period. AIG reported EBITDA of $15,382 million, which reflects operating profitability before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortization, while the company held shareholder equity of $68,912 million on its balance sheet. Profitability relative to invested capital stood at a return on investment of 10.02%. As of 2021, AIG employed approximately 36,600 people worldwide.

PCG

In 2021, PCG operated in the Manufacturing sector and reported a market capitalization of $32.20 billion. The company generated revenue of $20,642 million and a gross profit of $16,261 million for the year. It recorded a net loss of $102 million and a loss per share of $0.05 for the period. PCG reported EBITDA of $5,286 million, which reflects operating profitability before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortization, while the company held shareholder equity of $21,223 million on its balance sheet. Profitability relative to invested capital stood at a negative return on investment of 0.15%. As of 2021, PCG employed approximately 26,000 people worldwide.

MCD

In 2021, MCD operated in the Food sector and reported a market capitalization of $193.02 billion. The company generated revenue of $23,222.90 million and a gross profit of $12,580.20 million for the year. It recorded a net income of $7,545.20 million and earnings per share of $10.04 for the period. MCD reported EBITDA of $12,224.10 million, which reflects operating profitability before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortization, while the company held a shareholder equity deficit of $4,601 million on its balance sheet. Profitability relative to invested capital stood at a return on investment of 24.32%. As of 2021, MCD employed approximately 200,000 people worldwide.

BCS

In 2021, BCS operated in the Banking sector and reported a market capitalization of $43.60 billion. The company generated revenue of $30,169.69 million and a gross profit of $30,169.69 million for the year. It recorded a net income of $8,766.26 million and earnings per share of $2.0131 for the period.

BCS reported EBITDA of $1 million, which reflects operating profitability before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortization, while the company held shareholder equity of $96,547.15 million on its balance sheet. Profitability relative to invested capital stood at a return on investment of 1.67%. As of 2021, BCS employed approximately 81,600 people worldwide.

NVDA

In 2021, NVDA operated in the Electronics sector and reported a market capitalization of $735.86 billion. The company generated revenue of $16,675 million and a gross profit of $10,396 million for the year. It recorded a net income of $4,332 million and earnings per share of $1.73 for the period. NVDA reported EBITDA of $5,630 million, which reflects operating profitability before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortization, while the company held shareholder equity of $16,893 million on its balance sheet. Profitability relative to invested capital stood at a return on investment of 18.95%. As of 2021, NVDA employed approximately 18,975 people worldwide.

INTC

In 2021, INTC operated in the Electronics sector and reported a market capitalization of $209.45 billion. The company generated revenue of $79,024 million and a gross profit of $43,815 million for the year. It recorded a net income of $19,868 million and earnings per share of $4.86 for the period. INTC reported EBITDA of $31,248 million, which reflects operating profitability before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortization, while the company held shareholder equity of $95,391 million on its balance sheet. Profitability relative to invested capital stood at a return on investment of 15.41%. As of 2021, INTC employed approximately 121,100 people worldwide.

AMZN

In 2021, AMZN operated in the Logistics sector and reported a market capitalization of $1,691 billion. The company generated revenue of $469,822 million and a gross profit of $197,478 million for the year. It recorded a net income of $33,364 million and earnings per share of $3.24 for the period. AMZN reported EBITDA of $59,312 million, which reflects operating profitability before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortization, while the company held shareholder equity of $138,245 million on its balance sheet. Profitability relative to invested capital stood at a return on investment of 17.84%. As of 2021, AMZN employed approximately 1,608,000 people worldwide.